

2. Literature Review

• Feedback & Evaluation

Throughout the design process, we received constructive feedback from our instructor regarding usability, visual hierarchy, and feature clarity.

The evaluation highlighted the project's strong points such as consistent branding, organized workflows, and a well-defined user journey for both customers and restaurant owners.

Additional notes emphasized improving the dashboard data visualization, enhancing accessibility in the mobile app, and maintaining uniform spacing across screens.

• Suggested Improvements

Based on the instructor's feedback and peer reviews, several enhancements were identified:

- Improving contrast ratios for better readability in both light and dark modes.
- Adding clearer empty-state illustrations for the web dashboard.
- Enhancing the subscription flow with more prominent CTAs and a smoother confirmation sequence.
- Refining the restaurant profile fields to make onboarding faster and more intuitive.
- Strengthening the landing page messaging to better communicate the project's value proposition.

• Final Grading Criteria

The final assessment of the project is based on the following criteria:

- Documentation Quality: Clarity, organization, and completeness of the project report.
- UI/UX Implementation: Consistency, usability, accessibility, and adherence to design principles.
- Research Depth: Quality of user analysis, competitive research, and insights.
- Testing & Iteration: How feedback was applied and improvements were made.
- Presentation: Delivery, clarity of explanation, visual demonstration, and teamwork.
